I believe it is a great idea! Jake and heather have an amazing 10 acres that is extremely beautiful with many trails leading into the redwoods and to Mitchell creek that also runs through the property. Many kinds of wild life and amazing scenery. And at night it's peaceful and you can hear the ocean banging around in the distance. To not make the property a campground would be a shame for not sharing the beauty with others. Also as a benefit there is a rodeo ground right up the road in close distance people could go to when they are doing it as well. I would definitely vote yes to allowing them to share this beautiful area with others and travelers.
